DEVELOPMENTS IN THE SPANISH SITUATION

Madrid in an uproar over the reverses of the Spanish troops in Morocco and demand made that the cabinet end the war or resign within 48 hours. Queen Victoria and the queen mother left San Sebastian and went to Bayonne, across the French frontier. Situation at Barcelona slightly relieved through the capture of the main body of rioters after a bloody fight in St. Martin's Square. Spanish cruiser Neumancia shelling Mount Gurgula, the Moors' stronghold at Melilla. Gen. Marina's position at Melilla critical in the extreme and he declares that he will not make another attacking movement until 50,000 reinforcements are forthcoming. Holy war being proclaimed throughout Morocco causing heavy reinforcements to join the tribesmen at Melilla. King Edward suggests joint action by Germany, England and France in aid of Spain's Moroccan campaign.

MELILLA, July 30.—The grim spectacle of both the Spanish troops and the Moorish hordes having to virtually declare truce in order to bury the dead was presented today. Such action had to be taken to avoid a pestilence for the air was foul with the stench of decaying bodies, carrion birds flew everywhere and the nights were made hideous with the cries of jackals.

The Moors erected a huge funeral pyre where 4,000 corpses are now being cremated. This is the number estimated to have been lost by the Moors in Tuesday's terrific struggle, besides the several thousand injured. The Spaniards are burying their dead. Immense trenches have been dug just outside the city walls and the corpses are being dumped in indiscriminately. No careful identification of the victims is being made as the Spaniards are in too demoralized condition to go to the work in a systematic manner.

General Marina says he will not attempt another movement against the Moors until he has at least 5,000 reinforcements.

Deaths of Capital in Great Upheaval. MADRID, July 30.—Unless the Spanish cabinet puts an end to the bloody war in Morocco or resigns within 48 hours, revolution will sweep Spain from border to border. Fought to the highest pitch of indignation by the news of Tuesday

RYANS TO REMAIN IN LINCOLN

LINCOLN, Neb., July 30.—Mrs. J. Bryan said today there was no word in the dispatch from Bellefontaine, Ohio, that Mr. Bryan and his family would remove from Nebraska to make their home in Texas. A two or three months' winter residence in Texas was all that was contemplated. Frequent denials of the same rumor have been made before.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—

In its perfected form the new tariff bill was submitted to the house today. It came from the hand of Mr. Payne, leading house conferee, as the report of the joint conference committee that had struggled for 21 days in its efforts to reconcile the differences in the house and senate bills and at the same time to meet the views of President Taft.

The bill, as presented by the conferees, will be first disposed of in the house, and will then go to the senate. It is possible the house will be able to take a vote by tomorrow.

HARRY THAW WHISPERING TO HIS COUNSEL IN THE THAW TRIAL AT WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. THIS IS THE LATEST PICTURE OF MR. THAW

MILWAUKEE WOMAN CRUEL TO HER CHILD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 30.—To guard Mrs. Frank Brockhaus against mob violence a special force of police of the patrolmen were on duty in district court this morning. Mrs. Brockhaus is awaiting trial on the charge of mayhem. It is alleged that in a fit of temper she pulled her little stepdaughter's ear and nearly detached it. Nearly 1,000 people, mostly women, crowded into the court room and corridor, pushing and pulling each other in their determination to get seats.

Many indignant women were present who attempted to mob Mrs. Brockhaus after she had been arraigned a few days ago, but the extra police prevented an attempt to lynch the woman.

Friday morning interest in the case was so intense that the court room was filled before Judge Neelen arrived.

Seven hundred people succeeded in remaining in the room after the court had ordered the police to clear the aisles.

KILLS BABY AND WIFE, SHOOTSELF DEAD

HANNIBAL, Mo., July 30.—Chas. Beasley shot and killed his baby, dangerously wounded his wife, and then committed suicide. The first shot was directed against the baby. Mrs. Beasley fled, but her husband caught her and forced her to return to the house. She slipped away a second time and he fired at her as she ran. Then he stretched himself on the floor beside the dead child and turned the revolver on himself.

Mrs. Beasley's chances for recovery are slight, according to physicians.

THAW HOLDS OWN AGAINST JEROME

Sparring Between State's Attorney and the Man Whom He Tries to Prove Insane

JUDGE MILLS TAKES A HAND

Under the Sharp Questioning of the Court Thaw Wilts and is Much Confused

COURTHOUSE, White Plains, N. Y., July 30.—Justice Isaac Mills, who is to decide the fate of Harry K. Thaw, took Thaw into his hands today and after fifteen minutes of questioning by the keen-eyed jurist Thaw left the stand, shaking and nervous. He was confident, however, that he had favorably impressed Justice Mills. This, the most severe of Thaw's ordeal, came after two hours of terrific cross examination at the hands of Jerome. At the end of the morning session when Jerome announced he was through with Thaw, Justice Mills turned to the prisoner and said he wanted to ask him some questions. The justice picked out three vital points in the case, the alleged delusion concerning White; the apparently incoherent notes made by Thaw for his counsel during his first and second trials and "the exaggerated ego" which Justice Mills said Thaw exhibited in his conduct during the trial of his case.

"Do you hold the same belief as to the practices of White that you held when you were examined by Dr. Evans, who said you had paranoia?" asked Justice Mills.

"Not exactly."

"Now, as to this 'exaggerated ego' which has been claimed you suffer from; your distrust of your own counsel during two murder trials seems to support that claim," said Justice Mills.

This hit Thaw hard and he could make no adequate explanation. "You are represented in this case by one of the leading members of the bar in this country," said Mills, "but you constantly interrupt him and apparently do not trust your case to him."

Thaw, confused, mumbled a few words and left the stand agitated and depressed. Morschauer announced that he would recall Thaw in rebuttal and the downtown Thaw party filed out of the courtroom for the noon recess.

Jerome was well satisfied with the turn of affairs but Morschauer appeared apprehensive. At the opening of the afternoon session Morschauer announced that with the exception of one witness he would call later, the case of Thaw was about completed.

COURTHOUSE, White Plains, N. Y., July 30.—Though he conversed far into the night with his attorney, Harry K. Thaw was bright and chipper when he appeared in the courtroom today to undergo an examination at the hands of his own lawyer in his fight for freedom from Matteawan.

Under guard of Jailer John Hill of the White Plains jail, Thaw with his attorney, Chas. Morschauer, remained until midnight in the library of the court house here going over the mass of written evidence yesterday by Jerome. The documents, all of which were prepared by Thaw during his confinement in the Tombs for the "rhetorical use" of Delphin M. Delmas, his counsel, confused Thaw on the stand yesterday and he wished to go over them that he might explain them during the examination by his counsel on the stand today.

Battle of Wits.

Towards the close of the afternoon sitting of the court the following lively tilt between Jerome and Thaw took place: Jerome exhibited 24 huge pasteboard cards with newspaper clippings and blue pencilled, which Thaw said he compiled for the use of his counsel, Delphin M. Dalmas, in his summing up in the second trial. Much of it, Thaw said, was "rubbish."

Interesting Testimony in Arbitration of the Street Car Troubles This Afternoon

CAME AS A VERBAL ORDER

Superintendent Shaw Told Assistant to Pass Them But That It Was Illegal

Policemen, firemen, their wives, families and friends have been riding over the lines of the La Crosse City Railway company free for some time, according to the testimony offered by carmen who were called as witnesses today before the board of arbitration, now in session at the city hall.

Policemen, up to a short time ago, and also night watchmen and plain clothesmen were given free rides without even presenting free tickets.

John Harrier, sworn this afternoon, testified that he was the assistant superintendent under Mr. Shaw. He said the superintendent had ordered him to allow policemen to ride free, to pay no attention to them when they got onto the cars and not to collect fares from them. The same was done with firemen. Mr. Shaw at that time told Mr. Harrier, according to his testimony, that he would not make a bulletin of the order because it was against the law.

Charles F. Masterson, a conductor, on the stand swore that he had received instructions from Harrier to ignore the members of the fire and police departments on the cars and not to collect fares from them.

He testified that at one time he had made a mistake and collected a fare from Night Police Sergeant S. S. Post and that the latter had reported the matter to Mr. Shaw. He said that Shaw had then told him that his orders were not to collect fares from the police, but to pass them by when they were on the cars.

Mr. Hartwell asked if ever a written order was issued that the police were not to pay. Mr. Masterson replied that there was not.

Looked Bad for Conductors.

Mr. Hartwell—"That kind of made the conductors to blame for it, did it not?"

Mr. Masterson—"Yes, it looked as though we were stealing the money. I have frequently been on cars and heard passengers remark that there were more passengers aboard than there were fares registered."

Mr. Masterson testified that he once went to collect a fare from Night Watchman Wood, employed on the Milwaukee road, and that the

GREAT GOING OUT OF BUSINESS SALE

Let Me Tell You Something

On every man Fortune smiles at least once—
And it's the wise man that beams back.

It is unfortunate that circumstances compel us to close our store—unfortunate for us.

Though I don't think any man will be glad to know we're going to shut up shop, from a purely selfish standpoint they can't help being pleased at the benefit that they'll get out of it.

You all know—or ought to—that we have a mighty good lot of woollens, by far the largest stock in town.

They run in values to $27.50 for a suit or overcoat made to order—quality that no other good tailor would duplicate for less than $40.

These goods must all be sold in the next thirty days, and if genuine, honest, unprecedented bargains can turn the trick, they won't last that long.

I've been in the tailoring business a good many years, but this sale caps anything I ever heard of.

Every man ought to get at least one suit and overcoat out of it—the saving is more than half—and you get just what you want, for you dictate the style.

Every pattern is this season's fabrics, and they come in medium and winter weights.

Think of it!

Values up to $27.50 (other tailors $40)—

For only $12.50—

Guaranteed to fit, to keep their shape and look good as long as you wear them.

Come early tomorrow and let me help you select a good suit pattern and a good overcoat fabric. I'll do my best to please you.

The goods will be made up by our best tailors, and if you're skeptical we'll incorporate in your order "Satisfaction or no pay."

Yours truly,

OTHER TAILORS WOULD ASK TO $40 FOR THE SAME GOODS

Not a single yard reserved—All this season's best patterns in suitings and overcoatings. In all the world no chance like this. You've all got to wear clothes, so why waste your earnings on ready-made hand-me-downs or get soaked by other tailors when you can now get an absolutely up-to-date suit or overcoat, made from the best fabrics the mills produce, for a fraction of what others ask? Get busy, anticipate your fall and winter wants and save enough money to help pay your winter's coal bill. Hundreds of patterns to choose from in light, medium and winter weight fabrics. Come early.

La Crosse, by taking the game yesterday, climbed to within one point of second place in the percentage column. It was a lovely swat, the local willow widders getting the big sum of 16 hits off Pelletier and Schieffer. The former slab man was yanked off the rubber in the third inning and Lefty Schieffer was sent in to do the twirling, but he fared badly, allowing 11 hits off his delivery.

Wolford hurled a good game for the Outcasts, allowing but seven hits, errors and a passed ball counting in Wausau's scoring.

La Crosse went after the game in the very first round, scoring twice. Malloy got a base on balls and was sacrificed to second by Doll. Eddie Kline was hit in the back and Letcher drove off a pretty single to center, Malloy crossing the plate. Safford grounded to short and Eddie made a bluff to come home. Hoppe throwing the pill to Johnson. Kline was caught between home and third, but managed to dive under Johnson with a score, while they were throwing the marble back and forth. Schriener and Kraher fled out to third and short respectively.

In the third Kline was out. Roland to Dolan, and Letcher followed with a single to center. Safford hit to third and both were advanced one sack on a passed ball by Johnson. Schriener landed on a neat single to center which scored Letcher and Safford. (Pelletier replaced him.) Kraher got a base on balls and when Johnson attempted to catch him stealing second, Schriener scored. Wals drew free transportation and Wolford lined one to Roland who doubled Kraher at second before he could get back to the bag.

Johnson led off with a two bagger to right field. Burns fled out. Casey struck out and Johnson scored on Hoppe's drive to right field. In the fifth round, Safford who had led off with a single to third base, scored on hits by Kraher to right and Wals to center. In the next round of the long drawn out game Malloy got a free pass, Doll hit to third base and Eddie Kline bunted along the third base line and beat it to first, Malloy scoring. Letcher fled out to Everett and Safford laid down a neat bunt in front of the plate and beat the throw to first. The sacks were full, and Schriener drew a base on balls forcing Doll over with a score. Then Schieffer issued another pass to Wals, after Kraher had fled out to Everett, which forced Kline over the plate. Wolford ended the merry-go-round business by flying out to Dolan.

Hoppe opened with a hit to second base and Schieffer poled out a long one to center which Safford dropped. Everett swatted the pill for three bases in center field, and Hoppe and Schieffer scored. Roland was out, Doll to Letcher, and Dolan fled out to Malloy, Everett scoring. Bourgeois hit to right, but Johnson was harmless, grounding to Letcher.

Malloy opened the seventh with a two bagger to left, was sacrificed by Doll to second and scored on a hit to right field by Kline. Letcher was out, Roland to Dolan, and Safford fled out to Bourgeois.

Dolan poled out a beautiful three bagger in the last inning, which hit the left field fence, but no scores resulted. The score:

Winona 4, Duluth 0.
WINONA, Minn., July 30.—By defeating the Duluth White Sox in the final game of the series the Winona Scrappers again took a position at the top of the percentage column, breaking the tie. Teddy Corbett, the local boy, pitched a fine game and did not give the visitors a chance to score. Geo. Rauss, who won the first game of the series for Duluth, opposed Corbett and could not prevent the locals from bunching their hits. Score of the game:

Duluth	0	0	0	0

Batteries: Corbett and Killian; Dauss and Mueller.
Superior 2; Eau Claire, 1.
EAU CLAIRE, Wis., July 30.—The Drillers succeeded in winning the last game of the series, the contest being a pitchers' battle in which Klingebiel received the better support. Score of the game:

Superior	AB	R	H	E
Superior	2	2	8	1
Eau Claire	1	1	8	3

Batteries: Klingebiel and Clapper; Worman and Nieman.

Notes of the Diamond
Letcher broke into the error column yesterday for the first time since joining the Outcasts. Wolford also contributed two errors by bad throws to second base. He pitched a good game and worked a trifle faster than usual. Wolford has always been a slow pitcher and faster work would help to keep the pepper in the team.

Wals caught another good game yesterday but is still weak on his throws to second. He got two hits in yesterday's game.

Dolan made a beautiful slam in the last inning, the ball going out to left field and bounding up against the fence. Had the tall first sacker run he could have made a homer out of it. Safford and Kline starred with the stick yesterday each getting three safe swats. Safford also chalked himself up with an error yesterday, the first for a long time.

We are now within one point of second place and after defeating the Crabbers today we will again be within hailing distance of first position in the percentage column. Schieffer had trouble yesterday in locating the plate, forcing two runs over with bases on balls. When he did locate the plate the Outcasts fell on his twisters like demons.

SEMI-FINALS START AT FLOSSMORE TODAY

FLOSSMORE, Ills., July 30.—The largest gallery of the tournament was out today to witness the play in the semi-final round of the western golf championship. Four Chicago boys, two of them members of the Midlothian club, were the contestants. Kenneth H. Edwards, of Midlothian, was paired with Albert Zeckel of Riverside, while Paul Hunter, of Midlothian, played C. E. Evans, of Edgewater. The four survivors of yesterday's round all won their laurels by the most brilliant kind of golf. The winners of today's round will play tomorrow in the final round.

The American league leaders were routed by New York yesterday, the score being 11 to 2. Willett of Detroit was knocked off the rubber in three innings, and Works, who succeeded him, was ineffective. Washington and Chicago broke even in the double header. The Senators won the first game 3 to 2, and lost the second 2 to 1. Johnson's pitching was the feature of the victory, while a timely triple by White, scoring two runs, features the defeat. St. Louis scored a victory over Boston yesterday in a poorly played game, by a score of 6 to 3. Karger was wild and his successor, Miller, was recently secured from St. Paul, was batted freely in his first few innings. The Athletics beat Cleveland in a double header yesterday afternoon. The Phillies won the first by bunching hits off Berger and Sutton and giving Morgan errorless support. The second was easy, the locals bailing the ball all over the lot. The Pittsburg Nationals won yesterday by bunching four hits in the seventh inning. Moreau quit in the middle of the inning and McQuillan was substituted. Miller knocked the

EDMONDS' HYPOCRISY.

"When a tariff bill bearing the endorsement of President Taft is reported to congress by the senate and house conferees, I do not believe that any loyal republican will vote against it," says Republican State Chairman Edmonds in Senator Stephenson's newspaper, the Free Press, and the senator's organ publishes it conspicuously in a half column interview in the same strain.

Senator Stephenson says this for public consumption, just as the senator's interview, prior to his re-election, in which he declared himself in favor of downward revision, was for public consumption.

But the senate records show that Senator Stephenson VOTED AGAINST DOWNWARD REVISION, and FOR UPWARD REVISION, with alacrity, in every instance.

The assumption that the public can be thus fooled, is silly. The Stephenson-Davidson game is known.
The cat is out of the bag. Governor Davidson himself cut the string
when he said, in a moment of unpolitic frankness, during the state platform convention:

"If the present tariff plank is enacted into law, you and I will be sorry for it within two years."

Mr. Edmonds is chief of that machine, and was chief dispenser of Stephenson's election bundle of more than $106,000. When he pretends now to sustain President Taft in the latter's fight for the downward revision pledged in the party platform, he merely displays his hypo-cric, for Mr. Edmonds cannot escape responsibility for the official conduct of the two men he was instrumental in electing to high public office.

SENATOR STONE BLUNDERS.

The Chicago Record-Herald
preaches a little sermon on "Senatorial Dignity" based upon Senator Stone's recent escapade in a dining room which might be made to apply
more generally.

It is quite likely that had not William J. Stone been a senator, or something else of influence, the Baltimore judge would not have seen that the accused had "sufficient prosecution and was absolutely justified

SPOTLIGHTS

A Dramatic Treat.

The season has one great novelty in store for the public, a novelty that has been awaited with impatience, a novelty of which great things are expected a novelty which cannot fail to fulfill all hopes and expectations that are heard regarding
it. This novelty is "Under the Harvest Moon," which is to be seen here for the first time at popular prices
matinee and night, Sunday, Aug. 1.
The sale of seats for this beautiful play promises to be large. Since the announcement was made of the production of the play here at popular prices, there has been numerous inquiries regarding it. Some of the inquiries have been made by mail, still more by telephone and a large number of persons at the reserve seat sale. They all tend to show the enormous amount of interest that is being taken in the play.
"Under the Harvest Moon" has an immense success and in all likelihood will live and be popular for many years. The cast is excellent, the scenic equipment complete and the play the one dramatic treat of the season.

in reprimanding and striking the colored porter."

Socialists and others will probably make capital of the case and declare that an unknown workman in like circumstances would not only have had a "free ride in Black Maria" but would have been subject to other indignities and have faced a judge who was absolutely unable to justify the striking of a man engaged in public service.

Quite frequently such servants
are found to be incapable and ignorant and even insolent, but when a gentleman descends to assault and calling names he places himself on a level with the most ignorant and sets a bad example.

THE BULLING OF WHEAT

Daily dispatches continue to relate stories of the millions James A. Patten is "cleaning up" in wheat, as a result of the fictitious prices he has forced upon the public by manipulation of the crop and representations that a shortage exists. Despite the public declaration of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson that this statement is untrue, the bull movement has continued and the public is paying the fiddler in increased cost of flour and bread.

Reliable sources of information agree that there is no crop shortage sufficient to justify the present prices. Winter wheat is a little short,
but this is compensated by a good spring wheat crop, and abundant corn and oats.

"Winter wheat harvesting" says
the Wall Street Journal, dealing with the subject from the viewpoint of railroad tonnage rather than from that of cereal prices, "has been the most widely extended geographical feature of field work during the week just passed. The government's indicated yield of 410,000,000 bushels is the lowest with four exceptions in a period of ten years. Cutting has been somewhat interfered with west of the Alleghenies by rains and floods. Little has, however, happened to prejudice the highly favorable outlook of spring wheat, even though government condition reports showed some decline during June. A combined crop of 704,000,000 bushels
which may be 710,000,000 bushels
by harvest, is a fairly good yield in the circumstances. Especially is this so with record oats and corn crops,
in both of which condition and the average yields per acre, on the large-est acreage the country has known,
gives ample assurance of large tonnage for railroads."

Truly, there is nothing in the situation to sustain the prices created by Patten on any just basis. The trouble is that there is no remedy, no means of relief. Mr. Patten can continue to impose upon the public. A law is badly needed.

If a man is too old for his job at 50 what advantage would it be to live to 150? The president of the Actuaries Association had better revise his prophecy of increased long life or show how aged men can live,
with prices all soaring, and experience in service estimated as of no value against youthful vigor.

Harry Thaw for the electric chair
and picture lessons from the lewd
and nude might serve as good stuff
for vaudeville but when preachers
use Thaw as subjects for pulpit discourses it suggests they are either tired of the Bible or have exhausted its resources for sermon texts so far as they are concerned.

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM ALEX-ANDER CALDERHEAD OF KANSAS

When William Alexander Calder-head was selected by Speaker Cannon to serve as a house member on the tariff conference committee a storm of protest arose from those who thought that the committee should be made up from the ways and means committee in the order of seniority. This would have placed Hill of Connecticut and Niedham of California on the committee instead of Calderhead of Kansas and Pomeroy of Michigan. But Uncle Joe in his characteristic manner, had his way, and today Congressman Calderhead is one of the 17 men whom the Sixty-first congress has signally honored and his gray locks and logical arguments are a power in the committee room.

Like many other great men, William Calderhead was born in Ohio, educated in Ohio, and served his country during the civil war in an Ohio regiment. In September he will pass his sixty-fifth year.

Immediately after the war Mr. Calderhead went to Kansas and engaged in farming. In 1872 he settled on a homestead near Newton and read law in the office of Hon. J. W. Ady.
He was admitted before Hon. S. R.
Peters in 1875. He then moved to Atchison, Kan., where he spent four years more studying law and teaching country schools during the winter. It was not until 1879 that he engaged in the general practice of law and it was 10 years later before he held his first office—that of county attorney. In 1875 he was elected to the Fifty-fourth congress and with the exception of the Fifty-fifth has served continuously ever since.

HE COMPETES IN RICH GOLF STAKES

CHICAGO, July 27.—The biggest golf match from a financial standpoint is now under way between Ralph Hoagland, a member of the Chicago Golf club, and Mr. Cady, a runner-up in last year's Western Club Association championship. The Chicago Golf club members backed Hoagland, claiming that he was champion of players over 35 years of age. The Rock Island golfers disputed the statement, claiming the honor for Cady.

A match was arranged and a wager made on each of the 72 holes of $500 a hole, involving a possible
total of $36,000 on the test. Ralph Hoagland won the first 36 holes of the match 8 up. Play of 36 holes more is to be held over the Chicago course. Hoagland is known as one of the best football officials of the country and was at one time a star player at Princeton.

After a man has reaped his golden harvest, it is easy enough for him to preach the doctrine of making hay while the sun shines.

Wondering.

Mighty curious folkses is,
Wonder good deal 'bout m' biz, Wonder how I spend m' time,
Jest es though m' time wa'n't mine;
Wonder why I keep s' mum—Ought t' laugh an' chatter some,
'N' if I chew t' beat the Dutch Wonder why I talk s' much.

Wonder why I hain't before Fixed m' pants th' bob wire tore;
Start t' fix 'em: "Never mind."
Folks t' putters wears that kind."
Wonder why I don't git up
'N' do the chores 'n' feed th' pup;
Wonder why I like t' fish
'Stead o' gettin' a posish.

Wonder why—'n' think it's funny—
I ain't t' work a-gettin' money;
'N' when I flashed a roll one day:
"War 'd he git it, anyway?"
I got a wonder comin' now.
I wonder where, I wonder how,

Trouble in the Royal Palace.

The Shakespeare club of New Orleans used to give amateur theatrical performances that were distinguished for the local prominence of the actors. Once a social celebrity, with a gorgeous costume, as one of the lords in waiting, had only four words to say: "The queen has swooned."
As he stepped forward, his friends applauded, vociferously. Bowing his thanks, he faced the king and said,
in a very high-pitched voice, "The swoon has queneed."

There was a roar of laughter; but he waited patiently, and made another attempt:

"The swoon has cooned."
Again the walls trembled and the stage manager said, in a voice which could be heard all over the house,
"Come off, you doggoned fool."
But the ambitious amateur refused to surrender, and in a rasping fal-setto, as he was assisted off the stage, he screamed: "The coon has swooned!"—Success Magazine.

Quite Enough Room.

"I fancy you've asked too many people. The table won't hold them."
"Oh, no! More people can be placed at a table now than formerly. Why, a fashionable woman in evening dress takes up about as much room as a rolled-up umbrella."
—Lippincott's.

Marseuvers.

C. O.—Fix—Bayonets!
Sergeant Major—Beg pardon, sir, pradin' without bayonets. Order from headquarters; return all bayonets to store last week.

C. O.—Oh, yes, yes, my mistake.
Unfix—Bayonets!—Punch.

The Artless Boy.

The boy bowed politely to the grocer.

"I understand," he said, "that you want a boy, sir. Will you kindly look me over."

"I only pay $3," said the grocer,
abruptly.

"I understand," said the boy,
"that you paid four."

"The grocer nodded.

"I did pay four," he said, "until I saw in the paper the other day that Millionaire Rogers began his business career on $3 a week."

The boy smiled.

"But I don't expect to be a millionaire," he said. "I don't care to be rich—I'd much rather be good."

The grocer was so much pleased with this artless reply that he compromised with the boy for three and a half.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vox Populi

"Where do you get your papers, little boy?"

"I buy 'em from Jimmy Wilson."

"And who is Jimmy Wilson?"

"He's the newsboy—he buys 'em
at the newspaper office."

"How much do you pay him for them?"

"Two cents."

"How much do you sell them for?"

"Two cents."

"But you don't make anything at that?"

"Nope."

"Then why do you sell them?"

"Oh, just to get to holler."—Harper's Weekly.

Making Friends

The truly courteous man doth win
Esteem. He says with joyous shout
To heavy heavings, "You're growing thin."

And to the thin, "You're growing stout."

—Washington Star.

Quite Polite

They were slight acquaintances, and there was no love lost between them.

"Well," said the first "grande dame," "bye-bye. I must really be getting on. I have to make a call on my mother."

The second put up her lorgnette
and drawled:

"Really—ah—you don't mean to say you have a mother living?"

The first "grande dame" laughed
—a high, thin laugh, with something biting, like acid, in it.

"Oh, yes," she retorted on the one who had tried to take her down, "my mother is still alive, and she don't look a day older than you do, I assure you."—Tit-Bits.

A Bad Habit

"Some barbers have a habit of asking a customer if he doesn't shave himself."

"What of it?"

"It ain't no business getter."

"Think not?"

"I do. Would you patronize a tailor who insinuated in a supercilious manner that you sometimes made your own clothes?"—Washington Herald.

THE PRESENT POLITICAL ASPECT OF WASHINGTON

THE CIRCULAR STAIRCASE

By Mary
Roberts
Rinehart

(Copyright.)

We shook hands, and I got a chance to look at Mr. Bailey; he was a tall fellow, perhaps thirty, and he wore a small mustache. I remember wondering why he seemed to have a good mouth and when he smiled his teeth were above the average. One never knows what certain men cling to a messy upper lip that must get into things, any more than one understands some women building up their hair on wire atrocities.
Otherwise, he was very good to look at, stalwart and tanned, with the direct gaze that I liked. I am particular about Mr. Bailey, because he was a prominent figure in what happened later.

Gertrude was tired with the trip and went up to bed very soon. I made up my mind to tell them nothing until the next day, and then to make as light of our excitement as possible. After all, what had I do tell? An inquisitive face peering in at a window; a crash in the night; a scratch or two on the stairs, and half a cuff-blot! As for Thomas and his forebodings, it was always my belief that a negro is one part thief, one part pigment, and the rest superstition.

It was Saturday night. The two men went to the billiard-room, and I could hear them talking as I went up-stairs. It seemed that Bailey had gone to the Greenwood Club for gasogene and found Jack Bailey
there with the Sunday golf crowd.
Mr. Bailey had not been hard to persuade—probably Gertrude knew why—and they had carried him off triumphantly. I roused Liddy to get them something to eat—Thomas was beyond reach in the lodge—and paid
no attention to her evident terror of the kitchen regions. Then I went to bed. The men were still in the billiard-room when I finally dozed off, and the last thing I remember was the howl of a dog in front of the house. It waited a crescendo of woe that trailed off hopefully, only to break out afresh from a new point of the compass.

At three o'clock in the morning I was roused by a revolver shot. The sound seemed to come from just outside my door. For a moment I could not move. Then—I heard Gertrude stirring in her room, and the next moment she had thrown open the connecting door.

"O Aunt Ray! Aunt Ray!" she cried hysterically. "Some one has been killed, killed!"

"Thieves," I said shortly. "Thank goodness, there are some men in the house tonight." I was getting into my slippers and a bath-robe, and Gertrude with shaking hands was lighting a lamp. Then we opened the door into the hall, where, crowded on the upper landing of the stairs,
the maids, white-faced and trembling, were peering down, headed by Liddy. I was greeted by a series of low screams and questions, and I tried to quiet them. Gertrude had dropped on a chair and sat there limp and shivering.

I went at once across the hall to Halsey's room and knocked; then I pushed the door open. It was empty;
the bed had not been occupied!

"He must be in Mr. Bailey's room,"
I said excitedly, and followed by Liddy, we went there. Like Halsey's it had not been occupied! Gertrude was on her feet now, but she leaned against the door for support.

"They have been killed!" she gasped. "Then she caught me by the arm and dragged me toward the stairs. 'They may only be hurt, and we must find them,' she said, her eyes dilated with excitement."

I don't remember how we got down the stairs; I do remember expecting every moment to be killed.
The cook was at the telephone upstairs, calling the Greenwood Club, and Liddy was behind me, afraid to come and not daring to stay behind.

We found the living-room and the drawing-room undisturbed. Somehow I felt that whatever we found would be in the card-room or on the staircase, and nothing but the fear that Halsey was in danger drove me on; with every step my knees seemed to give way under me. Gertrude was ahead and in the card-room she stopped, holding her candle high. Then she pointed silently to the doorway into the hall beyond.
Huddled there on the floor, face down, with his arms extended, was a man.

Gertrude ran forward with a gasping sob. "Jack," she cried.
"Oh, Jack!"

Liddy had run, screaming, and the two of us were there alone. It was Gertrude who turned him over, finally, until we could see his white face, and then she drew a deep breath and dropped limply to her knees. It was the body of a man, a gentleman, in a dinner coat and white waistcoat, stained now with blood—the body of a man I had never seen before.

CHAPTER IV.

Where is Halsey?

Gertrude gazed at the face in a kind of fascination. Then she put out her hands blindly, and I thought
she was going to faint.

"He has killed him!" she muttered almost inarticulately; and at that, because my nerves were going, I gave her a good shake.

"What do you mean?" I said frantically. There was a depth of grief and conviction in her tone that was worse than anything she could have said. The shake braced her, anyhow, and she seemed to pull herself together. But not another word would she say; she stood gazing down at that gruesome figure on the floor, while Liddy, ashamed of her flight and afraid to come back alone,
drove before her three terrified women-servants into the drawing-room,
which was as near as any of them would venture.

Once in the drawing-room, Gertrude collapsed and went from one fainting spell into another. I had all I could do to keep Liddy from drowning her with cold water, and the maids huddled in a corner, as much use as so many sheep. In a short time, although it seemed hours,
a car came rushing up, and Anne Watson, who had waited to dress, opened the door. Three men from the Greenwood Club, in all kinds of costumes, hurried in. I recognized a Mr. Jarvis, but the others were strangers.

"What's wrong?" the Jarvis man asked—and we made a strange picture, no doubt. "Nobody hurt, is there?" He was looking at Gertrude.

"Worse than that, Mr. Jarvis,"
I said. "I think it is murder."

At the word there was a commotion. The cook began to cry, and Mrs. Watson knocked over a chair.
The men were visibly impressed.

"Not any member of the family?"
Mr. Jarvis asked, when he had got his breath.

"No," I said; and motioning Liddy
to look after Gertrude, I led the way with a lamp to the card-room door.
One of the men gave an exclamation,
and they all hurried across the room. Mr. Jarvis took the lamp from me—I remember that—and then,
feeling myself getting dizzy and light-headed, I closed my eyes. When I opened them their brief examination was over, and Mr. Jarvis was trying to put me in a chair.

"You must get up-stairs," he said firmly, "you and Miss Gertrude, too.
This has been a terrible shock. In his own home, too."

I stared at him without comprehension. "Who is it?" I asked with difficulty. There was a hand drawn tightly around my throat.

"It is Arnold Armstrong," he said,
looking at me oddly, "and he has been murdered—in his father's house."

After a minute I gathered myself together and Mr. Jarvis helped me into the living-room. Liddy had got Gertrude up-stairs, and the two strange men from the club stayed with the body. The reaction from the shock and strain was tremendous: I was collapsed—and then Mr.
Jarvis asked me a question that brought back my wandering faculties.

"Where is Halsey?" he asked.
"Halsey!" Suddenly Gertrude's stricken face rose before me—the empty rooms up-stairs. Where was Halsey?

"He was here, wasn't he?" Mr.
Jarvis persisted. "He stopped at the club on his way over."

"I—don't know where he is," I said feebly.

One of the men from the club
came in, asked for the telephone,
and I could hear him excitedly talking, saying something about coroners and detectives. Mr. Jarvis leaned over me.

"Why don't you trust me, Miss Innes?" he said. "If I can do anything I will. But tell me the whole thing."

I did, finally, from the beginning,
and when I told of Jack Bailey's being in the house that night, he gave a long whistle.

"I wish they were both here," he said when I finished. "Whatever mad prank took them away, it would be better if they were here. Especially—"

"Especially what?"

FORTUNE FOR MRS. BABCOCK.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—
Attorneys for Mrs. Mary S. Dickerson, who died Wednesday without leaving a will, are preparing to communicate with her only known relative, a sister, Mrs. Ellen Babcock, of Utica, N. Y., mother of Mrs. Jas.
S. Sherman, wife of the vice president.

The estate, valued at half a million dollars, will probably go to the vice president's mother-in-law.

CANADIAN GRAIN MEN DISPUTE.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 30.—
What promises to be a bitter fight between the elevator interests of western Canada and the commission merchants of the grain exchange was started when by a majority vote the commission on wheat, oats, and barley of one cent per bushel was revoked and the commission men are now at liberty to handle farmers'

FIRE IN MADE LAND EXTINGUISHED

Blaze on "Chip" Island Expected to Burn Itself Out and Put An End to the Nuisance

Fire department No. 2 in St. Cloud street responded to a call about 12:30 p. m. yesterday, to extinguish a blaze in the made land at the foot of Island street. The fire was well under way when the company arrived, having been burning since about 7 o'clock in the morning. After working for about two hours the blaze was extinguished.

The first burst of fire under the main line of the Milwaukee tracks, which cross the street at this point, but it is thought that no damage will result. The fire on "Chip" island is still burning, and the captain at station No. 2 stated this morning that if left alone the blaze will burn itself out in a short time. This will remove all the lumber chips and waste which have covered the island for the past fifteen to twenty years, and leave the soil exposed, thus preventing the possibility of this kind of fires there in the future.

NEBRASKA ORTHODOX MINISTER IN CITY

Rev. Nicola Yannev, rector of the St. George Syrian Greek Orthodox church of Kearney, Neb., is in the city and will hold high mass at the North Side Episcopal church at 8 a. m. Sunday and Monday. He also conducted high mass at the same church last Sunday and Monday and baptised three children. There are seventeen Syrian and Greek families in La Crosse who are visited twice annually by Rev. Yannev. He covers thirteen states in his territory, and leaves next Wednesday for New London, Wis.

ETTRICK MAN DIES AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Morris Casey, of Ettrick, Wis., aged 77 years, expired at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at one of the local hospitals, after having suffered for some time with gall stones. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker William Dwyer and as yet no funeral arrangements have been made, but it is thought that the deceased will be buried at Ettrick Monday.

THINKS LIGHTING PLANT SOLUTION

A. Foster, North Side Engineer Says Expenditure of Huge Sum Is Not Necessary

PUT PUMP IN LIGHT STATION

Former Alderman from 20th Ward Has Scheme to Save Money for the City

If the theories of A. Foster, 1603 Charles street, an engineer on the Burlington and former alderman from the Twentieth ward, could be worked out satisfactorily, he believes that he has a solution for the water problem which will cost the city not more than $5,000.

Mr. Foster says he has devoted considerable time and study to the question. He says the plant of the Wisconsin Light & Power company on the bank of Black river is ideally situated to be made a pumping station. Pipes are already connected with the river and with the city mains, and all that would be necessary to establish an adequate auxiliary pumping station which would relieve the situation, would be for the city to install pumps at this power house. There is plenty of water in Black river, he says, and with pumps here which says could be installed for $5,000, the north side would be so generously supplied with water, that the main force of the south side pumping station would be reserved for the south side thus bringing the pressure to the required place. He says arrangements could easily be made to have water pumps operated in connection with this light plant and that with this small investment, the city could then devote the fortune it plans to spend on its water supply to the various other public improvements which will be of much more general benefit to the citizens at large.

MEN HURT IN WRECK ARE HERE

After sliding up the car on their hands and knees while the coach was turning turtle, John B. Freye of Chicago, A. Thein of Milwaukee, J. R. Bruce of St. Paul and R. M. Bates of Minneapolis found themselves yesterday in a pile of chairs, coach seats, baggage and other debris in the train wreck at Brookfield near Milwaukee, when the Milwaukee-St. Paul train No. 5 was thrown in the ditch by spreading rails, caused by the intense heat.

All of the men are at the Stoddard hotel, where they are recuperating from their bruises. Mr. Freye, who is well known in La Crosse, and was one of the engineers in the recent stationary engineers' picnic, was severely bruised. He sustained a severe blow on the head from coming in contact with a fly lantern, and has many contusions on his limbs as a result of being buried in a pile of seats and people at the head end of his car. All of the seats in the coach were torn from the floor and thrown to the head of the car by the shock of the sudden stop.

UNKNOWN AIR SHIP FALLS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 30.—A report reached the police just after noon that a mysterious airship in which an aeronaut had been maneuvering for half an hour on the north side, collapsed when 600 feet in the air and fell to the ground, wrecking it. The aeronaut is reported fatally hurt. His name is not known.

NO STRIKE AT RUBBER MILLS

Management Gave Shoe-makers Day Off Owing to the Excessively Hot Atmosphere

The girls who walked out at the La Crosse Rubber Mills factory yesterday are all back at their various places today and active operations in the shoe department was begun again this morning.

It is understood that the girls gave the management of the factory notice yesterday, that with the excessive heat and the closeness of the atmosphere in the factory, they intended to take a day off and walked out.

Mr. Clark, the manager, stated today that the conditions at the factory were such that the girls could not have been expected to work yesterday. The night before was excessively hot and sultry and little sleeping was done by anyone. The next day the force was in poor condition for the day's work. An inquiry at the factory this morning elicited the reply that there had been no strike, as the management had acceded to the wishes of the girls and given them a day off.

KING A PRISONER; HE IS THREATENED

killing and wounding of more than 3,500 Spaniards at Melilla, the capital today is the center of a terrible uproar. The streets are everywhere filled with excited crowds who are demanding the very lives of the cabinet members.

All available soldiers and gendarmes have been pressed into service. Everywhere is heard the cry that the cabinet must either resign or put an end to the war in Morocco. Two days have been given the cabinet in which to meet the demands of the people and should the temper of the populace remain in its present state it is uncertain in what disaster the frenzy of the people may involve the monarchy.

King in Danger
The government is now practically without friends in its own capital. There is danger that an attack will be made upon the palace where King Alfonso is virtually a prisoner. He has not shown himself in public since shortly after his return from San Sebastian when he was jeered by the mob.

There is a wild clamor from all sides for the government to publish the names of those who have fallen in Morocco but this has not been done. The public, therefore, imagines that the casualties are far heavier than the government will admit. This only adds fuel to the flames of discontent. Queen Victoria and the queen mother have left San Sebastian and crossed the frontier to France and it is probably the flight will be continued to England.

Don Juan Threatens Civil War
The spectre of a civil war looms large today as the result of a threat of Don Juan, now at Barritz, to head a Carlist movement and to attempt to seize the throne. Should Don Juan carry out his threat a civil war would be inevitable.

Horrors in Barcelona
The city today looks as though it had undergone a long siege. Scores of buildings are wrecked, smoke is rising from smoldering ruins, the streets are blood stained and nearly all the shops in the city are closed. Hundreds of houses are protected by improvised barracks.

The city is desperately short of food owing to the interruption of railway service and the cessation of work in the factories.

The city is filled with wounded rioters and soldiers, many of whom it is impossible to care for, while so many have been killed that decent burials for all the victims is out of the question.

Despite the success of the government troops in capturing the main body of the Barcelona rioters, the latest dispatches from the revolutionary center are far from reassuring.

Frenzied mobs in which women and children play a prominent part, still control there. It is apparent every revolutionary redoubt in the city will have to be taken at the point of the bayonet.

Details of the fighting in St. Martin show it to have been one of the bloodiest butcheries in the history of Spanish uprisings.

Foreign Intervention Talked
LONDON, July 30.—The feasibility of England, Germany and France going to the aid of Spain in suppressing the Moroccan rebellion is the subject discussed by the British cabinet today.

King Edward, alarmed for the safety of Queen Victoria of Spain, his niece, and King Alfonso, has requested the cabinet to communicate with the French and German ministry regarding sending a mixed force of reinforcements to the Spanish troops in Morocco.

The king cited the point action of the powers during the Chinese boxer uprising as a precedent. It is believed France would be favorable to such a movement.

Moors Reinforced.
GIBRALTAR, July 30.—Confidential messages from Melilla today declare the Spanish army to be in danger of annihilation unless reinforcements arrive speedily. The present garrison is physically exhausted and is short of both provisions and ammunition. Contrasted with the condition of the Spaniards, the Moors are being constantly reinforced by fresh troops. The proclamation of a holy war was issued today at Ceuta and transmitted at once to Moumaya, leader of the Kabyle tribesmen. The proclamation is sure to treble the Moorish forces and it is feared they will be able to strike a decisive blow and probably capture the city before the Spanish reinforcements now enroute can arrive.

FINDS HIS GRIP AND ON HIS WAY

E. A. Smart, a 70-year-old traveler, who walked into the city over the bridge, mislaid his ragged gripsack and a package yesterday. He went to the police station and complained, and Officer McDonough found it. He was an Odd Fellow and said he would rather die than be locked up. As he had 75 cents with which to pay for a bed at a lodging house the police did not inflict the indignity of arrest upon him, and he was permitted to go on his way.

LA CROSSE SOLDIERS GOING TO CAMP

John Klinge, George Woessner and J. M. Storkerson of company B, and Corporal A. W. Miller of company M, together with Musician A. Werner, who has been detailed as bugler, and Lieutenant Fowler, who has been detailed as assistant inspector of small arms practice, will leave Sunday for Camp Douglas, where the annual rifle camp will be held beginning Monday morning.

Forty men, who qualified in this state during the recent militia encampments, not including such men as qualified as distinguished marksmen, will take part in the encampment. A team will be selected from the forty men present to represent the Third regiment at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September. This team will consist of twelve men and three alternates, who will be chosen in the order of their standings.

ILL LUCK ENDS IN A FRACTURED BONE

Dan Beasy Pushed from a Train by Robber-Tramp and Suffered Broken Collar Bone

SECOND MARRIAGE FAILURE

Unfortunate Man at Central Station Attributes Ill-fortune to Unhappy Choice

Pushed from the "blind baggage" of a Northwestern train which had slowed up at Grand Crossing, and upon which he was beating his way from the harvest fields toward home in South Bend, Ind., Dan Beasy, aged 51, sustained a broken collar bone, which will lay him up here for a couple of weeks. The intervention of the fireman on the train was all that prevented the man who pushed him off from robbing him of the couple of dollars he had with him. The fellow's fingers had slipped through his vest pocket, but he fled when help came.

Beasy was brought to the police station on the north side last night after the accident and this morning at central station Dr. Egan was summoned and set the broken collar bone.

Beasy dates all of his misfortunes from the hour of his second marriage. With his first wife he had scraped together several thousand dollars and started a little grocery on West Van Buren street in Chicago, when the second woman came along and he married her. She played the races, shot off fireworks and cavorted around until all his money was gone. Then she had him arrested five times, but the observing justice at the Des Plaines street station decided he was not to be blamed for drinking under the circumstances and recommended he go to the drink cure, which he did. With money gone and no work in Chicago Dan came west to work in the harvest fields, but through a fake agency in Chicago got no pay for his labor. He then went to work for the railroad and later for a farmer, but the work was too arduous for his uncertain health and he had started to return to Chicago, where he has friends, when the accident befell him.

Beasy is in a very grateful mood today for the kindnesses shown him by the people who have cared for him in La Crosse since the accident and for the police officers who he declares have treated him splendidly.

LLOYDS RATE KING'S LIFE AT 20 PER CENT

LONDON, July 30.—Purely as a speculation, a number of insurance policies on the life of King Alfonso of Spain are now being taken out. Lloyds and other writers put the rate this morning at 20 per cent which indicates that the ruler of the revolution-ridden monarchy is considered none too good a risk.

WILL TEST LIGHT
CO'S PENALTY

To obtain possession of their gas meter, which is at present held by Mr. Harry Taggart, the La Crosse Gas and Electric company is today taking out replevin papers.

Mr. Taggart was out of the city on the tenth of the month when his gas bill was due, and consequently it was not paid on the day specified by the gas company. When he returned he went to the company's offices and tendered the cashier there the amount of his bill. It was refused, the clerk informing him that a penalty of ten per cent would have to be paid, under the rules of the company.

Mr. Taggart said that a ten per cent penalty was too high, but offered to pay a penalty of six per cent. This was refused and he went away.

Today the company sent a man to take out Mr. Taggart's meter. He was refused admission. The replevin followed. A test case will be made of it.

Folks who are willing to go to heaven alone are sure to get lost on the way.

CONVICTED MAN
GETS INJUNCTION

Ed Benson, convicted of vagrancy and sentenced to the state penitentiary for a year yesterday by Judge Brindley in county court, will not go to jail if he can help it. Benson yesterday through his attorney, A. C. Wolfe, took an appeal from the sentence and obtained an injunction restraining the court officials from carrying out the commitment. His case will be heard in circuit court.

GIRL GUIDES JOY RIDERS TO DISASTER

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 30.—An automobile driven at a furious pace by a young girl and containing another girl and two men at midnight turned turtle on a steep hill in the fashionable district, throwing the occupants out and seriously injuring Joshua Van Zandt of Madrid, Iowa. He is a student at Still college in this city. His shoulder was broken and he sustained internal injuries. Gus Nelson, another occupant, also suffered contusions. All efforts to establish the identity of the two young women were frustrated, though it is known that they were seriously hurt.

COMMITTEE HAS NEW TARIFF BILL

Under the rules of legislation it cannot be amended in either house. It must be accepted, rejected or referred back to the conference committee. That it will be accepted, will go to the president for his signature and will become a law within the next week or ten days is the general prediction made today. The committee claims that the measure will be of benefit to the country in lower duties on necessities and higher rates on luxuries.

Opponents of the bill declare the rates are from one to three per cent higher than those of the Dingley law and that little relief has been afforded on the articles most used by the people.

Reduction in Metal.

The reductions in the metal schedules were more marked than in any section of the bill. Iron ore was reduced from the Dingley rate of 40 cents to 15 cents a ton; pig iron from $4 to $2.50 and scrap iron from $4 to $1 a ton. Iron and steel products were decreased 50 per cent except structural steel fabric which increased from 16 to 40 per cent ad valorem.

The tariff rates on tobacco were left as in the Dingley law, but the internal revenue taxes on manufactured tobacco were increased from 6 to 8 cents a pound.

The cotton schedule was reconstructed and the duties were advanced to the rates that prevailed during the first four years of the Dingley law, which were afterwards cut down by treasury decisions from 6 to 60 per cent. The cotton rates in the new bill are approximately 10 per cent higher than the Dingley law rates collected last year.

The duties on the three cheaper grades of cotton hosiery were increased and the others were left as in the Dingley law.

Wool Tops Reduced.

Wool tops, which were given the same rate as cotton in the Dingley law, were reduced by being given a rate between combed wool and yarn. Small reductions were made on yarn and woolen cloth with a cotton warp.

Otherwise the Dingley rates of wool schedule were retained.

The silk schedule was reconstructed and the duties made specific instead of ad valorem. Silk of the higher quality was increased and the silk rates generally are somewhat higher, a result that will produce an increased revenue.

Hides, on which the Dingley rate is 15 per cent, were placed in the free list. To compensate for this reduction, the rates on leather products were reduced.

For the first time, moving picture films are specifically mentioned in a tariff bill, the rate is slightly higher than has been paid under the Dingley law.

50 Per Cent on Autos.

Automobiles are also mentioned by name for the first time and the honor accompanied by a duty of 50 per cent.

The section of the Aldrich bill giving the president unlimited power for the appointment of a tariff commission was greatly amended.

Under the bill as amended he has authority only to employ experts to investigate tariff discrimination by foreign countries against the United States.

The customs courts and the maximum and minimum provided in the senate bill were accepted by the conference committee.

Manufacturers using imported alcohol are given the right of drawback, if they expect the alcohol imported or an equal amount of domestic alcohol.

Bonds on Canal Cost.

The secretary of the treasury is authorized to issue bonds to cover the cost of the Panama canal bonds, which is $296,660,000. This sum, together with the $84,631,913 already borrowed on issues of 2 per cent bonds equals the estimates of the isthmian canal commission to cover its inception to completion.

The bonds are to be in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, payable in fifty years and bearing interest at the rate not exceeding 3 per cent per annum. They are to be free from taxation and are to be sold at not less than par under such regulations as will give all citizens an equal opportunity to subscribe for them. The bill also limits the indebtedness that may be issued to $200,000,000.

President Will Sign Bill.

Although the president is not thoroughly satisfied with the bill, he expresses the belief that it is in the main a revision downward, as promised by the republican party platform and his own campaign speeches, and he will sign it. He was in a happy mood today over the amicable adjustment of the differences that have prevailed in the conference, and told a number of callers that he was glad he had something to do with the preparation of the bill. He had been requested by the conferees to make his wishes known and nearly every vote taken by the committee men was taken with the understanding that the votes must be contingent on the president's approval.

Democrats Refuse to Sign Report.
The democratic members of the tariff conference committee were today invited to sign the report upon the tariff bill but declined. They will make no minority report but Senator Daniel as the senior democrat of the member, is preparing a statement he will submit when the report is taken up for consideration in the senate.

LaFollette and Others Confer.

The progressive republicans who voted against the bill when it passed the senate will have a meeting at the house of Senator Beveridge tomorrow night to determine their

HINT FOR DYSPEPTICS

Proper Diet, Plenty of Time for Eating and Rest Will Cure Most Cases Unless the Blood-Supply Is Deficient.

Drugs play very little part in the modern treatment of dyspepsia. From a list of articles easily digested the patient selects those that most appeal to the appetite, avoids hasty eating and rests after each meal by lying down for a time if circumstances permit. Then, unless the supply of blood to the stomach is deficient, nature works the cure.

The cure of Mrs. Jennie Temple, of No. 106 North Main street, Fond du Lac, Wis., of stomach trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was due to her power to build up and purify the blood. She says:

"I take great pleasure in letting others know of the great benefit I have received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was a sufferer of stomach trouble, caused by overwork, for about two years. My appetite was very poor and I could not eat much of anything. No matter what I ate, my stomach became sour and gas would form on it, causing shortness of breath and affecting my heart. I had to diet and eat only the lightest food. For months I did not know what a good night's rest meant. I had frequent dizzy spells and would faint at the least excitement. My head ached almost continually and my heart action was slow and irregular. I was weak and thin and in every way was extremely wretched. At one time I was confined to bed for three weeks.

"I had begun to despair of getting well as I had been treated by many doctors and spent a great deal of money in medicines and had received little or no help. Finally my sister became alarmed at my failure to get well and begged me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. Just to humor her I bought four boxes of the pills. Before I had taken the pills a month I felt much better, both mentally and physically. My nerves became stronger, my heart action was more steady and the distressing symptoms were lessened. My appetite increased and I soon became well and strong. Since using the pills I have regained my weight. I still take a few doses of the pills occasionally to tone me up. I can truthfully say that I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the very best medicine any person, suffering as I did, can take."

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

course on the final adoption of the measure. The Iowa senators together with the representatives of that state in the house will hold a meeting this evening.

It is believed Messrs. Clapp, Briant, La Follette, Dooliver, Cummins, Nelson and Beveridge will maintain their opposition to the bill to the end but it is thought that Senators Burkett, Brown and Crawford will vote for the measure.

WAGNER CASE IS IN JURY'S HANDS

MADISON, Wis., July 30.—(Special.)—Reading from the Psalms of the bible in which powerful interests are charged with iniquities against the poor, and declaring that the evidence used to combat the testimony of Frank T. Wagner, is unsupported, Attorney E. J. Yockey closed the defense in the case this morning. District Attorney Mason declared the story of Wagner was either an awful truth or a damnable lie, and everything indicated it was a lie. He said the crime of Wagner was more cowardly than the man who holds another at the point of a pistol. When court convened this afternoon Judge Donovan read the charge to the jury which retired to consider evidence about 2:30 o'clock. Wagner charged democratic politicians with accepting money to vote for Stephenson.

SEIZES AUTO THAT SMASHED HIS RIG

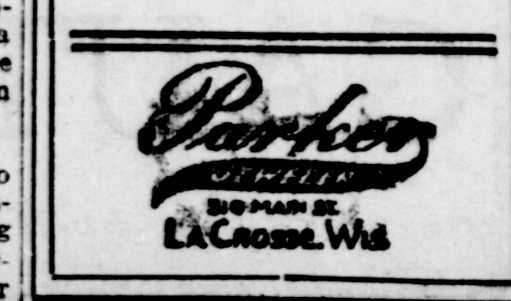

ST. PAUL, July 30.—When an automobile crashed into the carriage of Gusave Kruse, a drayman, late Saturday night, reducing the lighter vehicle to kindling wood, badly bruising the horses and injuring Mr. Kruse and his son, Mr. Kruse did not stop to call the police. Instead, he took possession of the automobile, which his chauffeur had deserted, and hitching it behind a truck dragged it to a livery barn where he intends to keep it until the owner pays for the damage.

THAW HOLD HIS OWN AGAINST JEROME

thing else there. That nettled Thaw and he took the sheets and read a quotation from ex-President Roosevelt to the effect that "criminal assault on a woman is the most serious crime in all the catalogue of crimes."

This, said Thaw, was not rubbish, coming as it did from the head of a great nation. Thaw also quoted a quantity of original comment on the conduct of White and the abuse of young girls and said that was not rubbish.

At this point Thaw quoted from St. Matthew: "And whosoever injureth one of the little ones; better were it for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck and he be thrown into the sea."

When Thaw said he had read all but the "rubbish," Jerome asked:

"What's that about St. George and the dragon?"

Thaw said he had recommended the St. George story from Percy's "Reliques" book that he sent Delmas. "Then you meant for Delmas to liken you to St. George and Stanford White to the dragon, did you?" sneered Jerome.

A Modern David.
Thaw explained the idea occurred to him because he had received hundreds of letters likening him to a David who had slain a modern Goliath.

Once more Jerome tried to get Thaw's letter to his wife in evidence and again Justice Mills ruled it out.

"Mr. Thaw, will you waive your objection? Don't you want us find out if you are crazy?" pleaded Jerome.

"I want you to find out if I am crazy, but I will waive none of my rights," answered Thaw.

"Don't you think obscene pictures in letters from you to your wife have a bearing on the subject?" asked Jerome.

"They were not obscene," blazed Thaw. "They might have been if written to anybody else's wife but not to my own."

"Don't you think nude pictures of men and women are obscene?" roared Jerome, growing angry.

Jerome Enraged.

"I don't care to answer that question," replied Thaw calmly.

The manner in which Thaw calmed and controlled himself enraged Jerome. He bared his teeth, leaped over, gripped the table in front of him and fairly hissed a rapid fire of sharp interrogations at the witness.

Thaw smiled and took his time about answering.

"Did you ever see this before?" hissed Jerome, shaking a long wire, at the end of which was attached a small glass dog's head.

"I think not," said Thaw deliberately.

"You know what it is?"

"It looks like a hat pin," answered Thaw.

Jerome crouched over the table and hoarsely whispered:

"Is it not a whip handle?"

"I think not," Thaw drawled and again smiled.

Thaw took the stand as soon as court convened and Jerome returned to the line of attack he followed yesterday afternoon.

"What do you mean by legally insane?" asked Jerome who was quick to perceive that Thaw was weakening.

"Oh, I cannot explain that suffering from a defect of reason," answered Thaw slowly.

"What is a defect of reason?" asked Jerome.

Thaw could not explain and he admitted his inability. Jerome kept after him pressing the advantage he had gained.

"Alienists say you were insane; Justice Mills thought you were insane when he sent you to Mattawan; Justice Morschauser refused to release you from Mattawan because you were insane. Now what do you think about it?" asked Jerome.

"I was legally insane for half a minute when I killed White," said Thaw.

Questions followed about the Merrill woman and about a cloak model in Paris to all of which Thaw gave a negative answer.

Jerome then took up the alleged beating of a bellboy in the Clarendon hotel in London and Thaw absolutely denied the story. When Jerome asked him if he was commonly known as "Mad Harry" or "Crazy Harry" he shot back:

"Anyone than you are commonly known as 'Mad Jerome' or the 'Crazy District Attorney.'"

Thaw Would Be Senator.

Jerome reviewed the number of incidents told by the Thaw family which formed the basis of the insanity defense and when Thaw denied them Jerome demanded an explanation.

"They were trying to do their best to prove me insane and thus save my life," said Thaw.

"How did you expect to carry out the promise to Evelyn in this letter: 'That you (Evelyn) could enter Pittsburg society and that he (Thaw) could be senator of Pennsylvania.'"

"Well," snapped back Thaw, "I had one prime requisite—money. My father's money was all honestly made."

"I understand that it is pretty generally known," added Thaw, "that my father made $10 for our country for every one he made for himself."

Another jump then Jerome was picking to pieces the story told Thaw by Evelyn of her mistreatment by White.

"Didn't you thing the story was rather fishy—that tale of mirrored rooms, bitter champagne and criminal assaults?" asked Jerome.

latter had told him he didn't pay fares. He wore a uniform at the time and was allowed to ride free after that.

Arbitrator Humphrey asked if the policemen's wives also rode free. The witness replied that some of them did. He then asked if any other women rode free, and the witness swore that he had seen policemen's wives pay fares for other women with yellow tickets. On being asked who they were the witness mentioned Mrs. Partridge, a daughter of Night Sergeant S. S. Post.

The wives and families of motor-men and conductors on the line are allowed twenty rides a month. These tickets are blue, a different color from the ordinary tickets.

Arbitrator Humphrey asked how many of the tickets come in every month. The witness replied that he didn't know, but that there were a great many. Q. How many come in a day? Ans. About 15 to 20. Hartwell asked the witness how many regular conductors there are on the line. The speaker said, about thirty.

President Edwards of the company was present and volunteered the information that from 3,000 to 4,000 fares came in in a month. He said the men who rode on these fares, were ball players, carmen and their wives, some of them were sold outright by the company, and still others were exchanged with certain newspapers, not including The Tribune, for advertising.

Mr. Humphrey asked the witness if the directors had ever instructed the superintendent to let these men ride free. Mr. Edwards said they had not.

Light on Car Passes

During the troubles between the La Crosse City Railway company and its employees, previous to the strike, it is said by the carmen, Martin Lyden, a conductor, was discharged from the service, charged with "knocking down" fares. The matter was investigated and it was found that the complaint against Lyden was made by a spotter, who did not know a policeman who was on the car, and who, through the verbal orders issued by Superintendent Shaw, was riding free.

Last night's session of the board of arbitration, was devoted chiefly to bringing to light, exactly what the conditions were between the street car company and the police department. Superintendent Shaw admitted that he had given verbal instructions to his subordinates that policemen, aldermen and other city officials should be carried free on the company's lines. He said also that from time to time he was in the habit of issuing to the members of the department yellow "free" tickets, which were used by them over the company's lines, same as cash fares.

The order to allow policemen to ride on the cars, Mr. Shaw recited early this year, but the free ticket system lasted until a few months ago. Now the policemen's fares are paid for by the police department.

R. H. Franklin, a conductor, on the stand testified that the free tickets are still being used by the police department and that it was only Wednesday that he received one of the yellow tickets from Night Desk Sergeant S. Post.

Conductor Daley, on the stand, testified that he had received instructions to carry firemen in uniform free.

Conductor Straight testified that he had taken up the yellow tickets from policemen several times, and he specified in regard to one instance, where he said that Plainclothes Policeman Taylor of the north side had paid the fares of three passengers with the yellow tickets which he took from about thirty in his pocket.

INTEREST SHOWN IN PRAIRIE TOURNAMENT

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., July 30.—(Special.)—The tennis tournament at the grounds of the Riverside club in the Fourth ward attracted numerous out of town players and visitors this week.

The games have been unusually close and have been witnessed by a large attendance of interested spectators.

Six silver trophy cups were offered by the Riverside club, one first prize for singles, one consolation prize for singles, two first prizes for doubles and two consolation for doubles.

The first prize for singles was won Thursday afternoon by Mr. Blake of Charles City, Iowa, playing against Louis Dousman of Prairie du Chien. This cup was very closely contested. Mr. Dousman having first beaten Mr. Hamilton of Milwaukee in the semifinals, and Blake having won from Niedhouse of Waukon. Blake and Dousman played five sets: 2-6, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

The consolation doubles were played Thursday afternoon, C. Case and J. H. Savage, Jr., winning from F. Honzel and Fred Otto, all Prairie du Chien players. It was expected that the tournament would end Thursday evening, but the playing has been so close, that the consolation singles and final championship doubles were left for Friday.

Some very fine playing has been done and the affair has given a great deal of pleasure to all who attended.

Among the out of town players were Messrs. Kiene and Allen of Dubuque, Blake and Bailey of Charles City, Niedhouse and Nehring of Waukon, Hamilton and McLaren of Milwaukee, Alger and Sobel of Decorah, Carpenter and Bishop of Elkader, Will and Cecil Stowell and Harry Pomeroy of Gays Mill.

Personal Mention.
The Misses Claudine Allen of this city and Cora Thompson of Lynxville left Thursday afternoon for a trip to the Seattle exposition.

Miss Edith Speck is visiting friends in Ossian, Iowa.

Mrs. C. Baron and children have returned to their home in Chicago after a fortnight's visit with Mr. and Mrs. S. Rosenthal.

Mrs. A. C. Baker and Josephine Clinton spent Thursday in Madison. Mrs. Jessie Russell, nee Reiser, is here from Chicago for a visit with her parents and other relatives.

Mrs. Della Dyer of Lynxville is spending the week with her sisters, Mrs. W. S. Allen and Miss Minnie Huard.

Mrs. W. T. Pinkerton is entertaining friends from Chicago.

The Misses Mary and Edna Curran and Hattie Kepp are attending teachers' institute in Soldiers' Grove this week.

W. R. Graves is in Black River Falls on business.

The Misses Ruth and Sidney Hall entertained at a breakfast party on their lawn Wednesday morning, the guests afterward going to the Riverside club for bridge and tennis.

Among those present were Messdames E. I. Kidd, C. C. Case, J. W. Brunton, J. S. Earle, and the Misses Agnes and Harriet Pinkerton, Margaret Paris, Addie Loeper and Minnie Case.

Messrs. and Messdames W. B. Tartt, Wm. Moore and Wallace Martner go into camping quarters on the Swigle farm north of the city Thursday, to remain two weeks.

Miss Harriet Pinkerton will leave Friday morning for Ashland, where she will be one of the guests at a house party at a summer cottage on

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC

While Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc., are troubles which affect the skin, their source is far deeper than the outside cuticle. These affections are caused by irritating humors, or uratic acid in the blood. Such impurities inflame and irritate the delicate net-work of fibrous tissue which lies just beneath the surface of the outer skin, and the inflammatory discharge thus produced is forced out through the pores and glands, and is continually kept up while the blood remains infected. This exudation causes the formation of scales and crusts so often seen in Eczema, and when they are scratched off the flesh is left raw and more susceptible to other infection. It can very readily be seen then that to produce a cure the circulation must be purified and cleansed. This S. S. S. will do. It goes down to the very bottom, removes all humors and impurities, neutralizes the excessive acids of the system and in this way removes the cause of disease. Local applications can only soothe the irritation and assist in keeping the skin clean; they never produce a cure because such treatment does not reach the blood. S. S. S. restores to the thin, acid blood, all its lost properties, makes it pure and rich and enables it to nourish the skin and keep it soft, smooth and healthy. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

NICHOLSON-SCOTT COMPANY

This store is running over with money-saving opportunities

FIRST ANNIVERSARY SALE

Beginning on SATURDAY, JULY 31st. We Will Inaugurate the Greatest Festival of Bargain Giving La Crosse Has Enjoyed for Years. We Invite All to Join with Us in this Celebration.

TO THE PUBLIC:

In offering this series of remarkable money-saving bargains, we wish, in a measure, to express to our patrons our appreciation of the un-failing loyalty with which they have supported our efforts to give La Crosse a trading place on a plane above and beyond anything ever before attempted in this city.

To succeed in such a project any store must have the ardent co-operation and confidence of its public.

It must 'make good' to make friends.

It must "back up" every ad with merchandise a little better than advertised.

It must never disappoint a single buyer.

It must speedily replace unsatisfactory goods—for no amount of precaution will keep any stock entirely free from unworthy goods at all times.

Added to these features courtesy must be a part of its stock in trade.

These rules, we have lived up to faithfully and the great measure of your approval we have enjoyed is our reward.

We cordially invite all to make this store their headquarters at any and all times, whether they are residents of the city or not.

"BARGAIN RUSH" FOR CHANCE AT BIG PRIZES

CONTESTANTS STRIVE EAGERLY IN RACE TO WIN ONE OF THE $3,500 LIST OF AWARDS

NOMINATIONS CONTINUE TO COME IN

TIME IS RIPE TO ENTER THE RACE TODAY—INTEREST IS WIDESPREAD AND GROWING

The bargain sale rushes at their worst, or best, as the case may be, never in La Crosse annals equaled the rush now taking place among the contestants in the Tribune $3,500 voting contest in which eighteen ladies of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota are to be made the proud possessors of costly prizes ranging from two 1909 model automobiles to purses of gold.

For the next few weeks nominations will be coming in with a rush. If yours is not already among those brought or mailed to the contest department of the Tribune, now is the time to enter. Cut out the nomination blank in tonight's issue of the Tribune, fill it out and join the race, which will be merry and interesting at every stage from the time you are named as a contestant to the end, when you may be one of the proud possessors of a costly and rare reward.

Many inquiries are being received as to how the Tribune can afford to give the grand array of awards which have been announced. In answer to these it may be said that the paper's policy is to give the best which money can purchase, that those who participate in the race may find themselves the possessors of more than ordinary awards and be accordingly rewarded for their energy.

"I'm learning how to run an auto so I'll know how to operate my car when I win it from the Tribune," is the remark that a contestant laughingly made. Others prefer one of the Haines Bros. pianos, and the four diamond rings, bracelets and purses of gold are looked upon eagerly by scores of the fair contestants, and it is gratifying to note that the Tribune's selections have been so happily made as to appeal to all tastes of the feminine world.

The contest manager's office is open all day, and every evening. All information will be given to those desiring it and the necessary materials to a successful conduct of the campaign for votes will be presented to the contestants.

Remember that the race is just beginning and that your opportunity awaits. Begin now and let your friends aid in the pleasant pastime of making you a winner.

Call up the Contest Manager, phone 323, for information which will enable you to enter the race and secure an early start.

Standings Published Daily.
The standing of the contestants will be changed from day to day as to the number of votes they receive. The ballot box will close each day at noon for the standing to be printed in the next day's paper. Votes appearing today represent standing of the candidates at noon yesterday.

Open Evenings.
For the benefit of those who are not able to call at the contest department's office during business hours, this department will be open every evening.

OUT DOOR TALKS ON WHITE PLAGUE

A hard blow was struck in Milwaukee against the white plague. The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association held its first open-air school ground mass meeting at the corner of Madison and Second avenues, one of the regions in which an enormous number of people are dying of tuberculosis.

This is no long distance kid glove fight. In carrying the battle into the very front yards of the people who are, or under present conditions soon will be victims of the disease, the association is making a fight for and in the interest of individuals.

The lecture is made as interesting by well worked out stereoscopic pictures as possible. While popular in nature and intended to be of immediate and practical benefit to every listener, the special lecturer of the association, Mr. Harvey Dee Brown, Ph. D., has the good taste not to insult the intelligence of his audience.

Starting out with an explanation of just what the disease is, he explains carefully how bad habits, poorly ventilated sleeping rooms and improper working places must be held as consumption's allies. It was graphically shown how one careless ignorant spitter could directly and indirectly be responsible for the deaths of thousands and thousands of innocent victims.

The startling statement was made "that the consumptive who knowing the danger of promiscuous spitting, still persisted in the vile and disgusting habit, was a murderer." That the fight against tuberculosis is a winning fight was brought out by a record of the Milwaukee health department which shows a remarkable decrease in the number of deaths since the campaign of education was instituted five years ago.

Fully 1,000 attended the lecture and so interested were they that most stood throughout and waited in line as long as fifteen minutes to receive copies of the booklets and leaflets which were distributed.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP POPULAR MECCA

The Y. M. C. A. camp, situated above Pettibone park on the west shore of the Mississippi river, is proving to be a popular place during the hot season. At the present time there are four families camping there, beside the young men of Mr. Bartz's Sunday school class of the West Avenue M. E. church. Rev. Cunningham is there and is assuming the role of chaplain for the young men.

The "Y" houseboat has been taken to the camp and will be occupied for one week by the young women of the Y. W. C. A. An effort will be made to induce them to keep it during summer months. The young men are stationed in a large tent which has been erected for them. The dining tent will soon be put up and meals will be served if the association can get some one to do this work.

The "YTUB" launch, under Ralph Bralish, is making regular daily trips to and from the camp.

OIL WAR IN ENGLAND; LION VS. STANDARD

LONDON, July 30.—Great Britain is to go to war again—this time with the Standard Oil company. The Anglo-American Oil company, which is the Standard in Great Britain, holds the strategic position and is said to be anxious for the fight. The English concerns frankly say that they will be satisfied with peace that brings an equal division of the trade.

For years the American company, the Home Light company and the British Petroleum company, both British concerns, have practically controlled the oil trade in England. Under the agreement entered into by them, the price of oil was maintained at a standard figure. The agreement ended in June and the Anglo-American company refused to renew it.

WALLACE REAL BASEBALL ROWDY

A letter received yesterday from Umpire Nelson by President Elliott gives the details of the disgraceful exhibition of rowdism put up by Wallace of Eau Claire Wednesday.

In the second game Nelson called him out on strikes and Wallace used profane language. Nelson put him out of the game and after going to the bench the Eau Claire outfielder threw a ball at Nelson and when the little arbiter got to the bench Wallace struck him in the face. President Elliott was notified and wired him, fining Wallace $25 and suspending him for ten days.

"MUSHHEAD" RYAN CALLS COPS ROBBERS

Thomas Ryan, better known as "Mushhead Ryan," was arrested again Wednesday. Mushhead protested vigorously, but was nevertheless taken to the station by an officer because Mushhead was drunk. At central station when searched by the desk sergeant he made a lot of trouble, claiming that he was being robbed. He said he would get the whole fire department to come up and lick the coppers for abusing him so.

Yesterday he woke up sober and had forgotten his previous experience. He was liberated on promise to get out of town at once. He started for Winona immediately.

"Baby's Never Ill"—Remedy FREE

Summer after summer Dr. Caldwell is in receipt of hundreds of letters from mothers all over the country thanking him for keeping their children in good health these hot days. The way is simple for any mother. If the child breaks out with sores, if it scratches itself, if it has no appetite and doesn't sleep well, if its bowels are constipated or too loose, do not become alarmed, but try a dose at bedtime of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. There is no remedy so effective in the digestive ailments of children, and so well liked by them for its pleasant taste and non-gripping, than this very same DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN. Ask your druggist who has your confidence and he will tell you that more mothers are buying this remedy today than any other. It is not to be compared to the ordinary laxative, because this contains tonic properties that help to build up the child; nor is it to be compared to salts and purgative waters, for they do but temporary good, nor to tablets or pills, which often gripe and are difficult to take. It is especially the right remedy for women and old folks because of its gentle action. Your druggist will sell you a bottle for 50 cents or $1.00, according to size.

USE DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN

Those who have never yet used DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN and would like to make a test of it before buying in the regular way of their druggist, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE either for themselves or any member of their family by sending name and address to the doctor. The sample will be sent to you home free of charge. In this way you can find out what it will do without cost. Also, if the case presents difficulties that doctors and other remedies seem unable to overcome, write a letter to Dr. Caldwell explaining how the person suffers and he will give you his best MEDICAL ADVICE, based on half a century of experience in stomach, liver and bowel diseases, without charge. Women who have children should send for "SUMMER SUGGESTIONS TO MOTHERS," containing the doctor's advice on diet, hygiene, etc., in hot weather—a very important subject. The address is: Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 524 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, N. Y.

ISSUE WARRANT FOR W. S. FLEMING

A warrant was issued and turned over to the sheriff today by District Attorney James Thompson for the arrest of W. S. Fleming, an agent of the Washburn-Crosby Milling company, charging him with embezzlement in the sum of $177.00. Fleming is said to have been in La Crosse for several months and during this time it is claimed he collected accounts due his firm and squandered the money. His present whereabouts are not known.

DE MAZIO IS HUNG AT SCRANTON, PA.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 30.—Nicholas de Mazio was executed in the county jail yesterday morning for the murder of his child-wife at Old Forge on July 7, 1908. He killed her because she left him after learning he had another wife in Italy. De Mazio showed wonderful nerve.

STORK VISITS THE POLICE PATROL

CHICAGO, July 30.—A baby was born in the patrol wagon of the town hall station yesterday while the policemen in charge of it were engaged in a desperate race to get to the Augusta hospital with the hope of getting there ahead of the stork. They were removing Mrs. Hilda Ecklund to the hospital and were advised to make all possible haste. The race was nearly won by the police but they were nosed out just as they reached the hospital.

That's the Plan for the Mississippi Says a Dispatch From Washington

RIVER WILL SOON BE BUSY

Rich Men Have Scheme to Capture the Wheat Freight Along the River

According to plans being discussed in Washington by Arthur N. Sager and J. L. Babler, prominent attorneys of St. Louis, who are representing the financial interests who propose the carrying out of the $10,000,000 Mississippi river transportation project, which will place La Crosse in river connection with all points along the river from St. Paul to the Gulf.

Steel vessels and barges will be constructed which will ply the Mississippi and its tributaries. The company proposes to have operating points at Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis and at New Orleans.

The Big Deal

A dispatch from Washington reads:

"Plans for a $10,000,000 river transportation concern are being discussed in Washington. Arthur N. Sager and J. L. Babler, St. Louis attorneys, acting, they say, for financial interests able to carry out the immense project of building a line of steel vessels and barges to ply the Mississippi and its tributaries are interesting congressmen in the scheme.

William K. Kavanaugh of St. Louis, president of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterway association, is to be president and general manager of the concern, which is to be called the Mississippi Valley Transportation company.

Operating Point at Chicago

"The company proposes to have operating points at Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis and New Orleans, believing that a waterway which will give lake shipping an outlet by way of the gulf of Mexico is practically assured.

"The wheat carrying trade between the upper Mississippi valley and the seaboard is the prize the new company is seeking. The fact that river transported wheat can be placed at New Orleans for not more than 8 cents per bushel, according to the promoters, tells the story of what the company expects. It is said to be impossible for railroads to take wheat to the seaboard for much less than 11 cents per bushel.

"Senator Lorimer denies that he has any interest in the company. He said, however, that he had learned of the project from Mr. Kavanaugh, and that it appeared to be a splendid proposition.

Lorimer Points Out Advantages

"From what I have learned of the project," said the senator, "it means the first move to take advantage of the scheme of inland deep waterways which is surely coming. The establishment of a point of business at Chicago is a capital idea, for it will not be many years before much of the wheat now flowing east and west through this country will be diverted southward to the gulf by means of a waterway.

"It is needless to ask whether such a line as is proposed can have the business of carrying wheat to the gulf. A mere glance at the statistics which show that grain can be carried nearly 4 cents per bushel cheaper by that route than by rail will answer the question.

"It is rumored that the board of directors of the new transportation concern will be made up of twenty-five members of congress and a like number of governors of states of the middle west, and shippers who now are leading spirits in the scheme."

REMODELED PUBLIC LIBRARY TO OPEN

The remodeled public library will be opened to the public tomorrow morning. The building is now one of the prettiest library buildings in the state and will be one of the most complete libraries in this section. An invitation is extended to the citizens to visit the library tomorrow and inspect the improvements, which has made it practically a new building. No fines will be assessed for books not promptly returned during the time the library was closed.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIES IN ST. PAUL

Word has been received here of the death this morning at St. Paul of Will D. Carl, aged 30. He was a brother-in-law of J. F. Schrank and a brother of Mrs. Mabel Scoles. He leaves no children, but had three brothers and six sisters.

Mr. Carl was millwright at the Listman mill for a couple of years, until a year ago when he went to St. Paul to reside.

HUMPHREY SEEKS TO SETTLE STRIKE

John Humphrey, Milwaukee, here in connection with the arbitration of street car troubles, has written the mayor of Kenosha expressing the wish that the state arbitration board be called in to settle the strike of the 250 employees of the Simmons Manufacturing company.

The man who despises his brother usually has some boss before whom he grovels.

EARTHQUAKE FELT AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., July 30.—Instruments in Father Odenbach's observatory at St. Ignatius college this morning recorded tremors indicating a severe earthquake. Father Odenbach said the center of the shock probably was within a radius of 2,000 to 5,000 miles distance. The shocks began at 4:58 a. m. and ended at 6:25 a. m. A long disturbance continued from 5:05 to 5:35 a. m. It was the heaviest from 5:12 to 5:20 a. m.

ISSUE INJUNCTION AGAINST RAILWAY

SPARTA, Wis., July 30.—(Special.)—Injunction proceedings have been started at the instigation of Myron Brackett, supervisor of assessments of Monroe county, in behalf of the taxpayers of the town of Little Falls, restraining the Sparta-Melrose Electric Railway and Power company, the Bank of Sparta and the town board of Little Falls from disposing of the $2,350 Sparta-Melrose bond issue authorized by that town.

According to the lawyers in the case it involves the validity of all transactions of the company previous to the granting of a certificate of convenience and necessity by the state railroad commission. The point of contention is whether a railroad corporation has the right to execute any contract or do any work whatever until such a certificate is granted.

The grounds set forth for the injunction in the complaint are that the bond issue is invalid and void because the railroad failed to fulfill their part of the agreement within the specified time; that a majority of the signatures of property owners was not secured; that the bonds do not specify that the principal shall not be paid providing the road was not completed by July 1st as was a part of the petition signed by the taxpayers; that the company was not legally incorporated and had no right to do business in the state because half of the capital stock was not disposed of at the time the bonds were issued; that a certificate of convenience and necessity had not at that time been granted the said railroad company and for other legal reasons.

Masters, Graves & Masters are attorneys for the plaintiff and the railroad attorneys will make answer to the summons.

Sparta Firm Gets Contract

The Sparta Sash and Door company has secured the contract to build the new storehouse at the government range. The specifications call for the starting of work within three days and the completion of the store house at the end of 45 working days.

The building is to be erected at the Kelvin siding and will be 40x100 feet, a wooden structure covered with sheet iron. It will be used for storing food stuffs and what paraphernalia which will be left at the range when the troops leave this fall. When the permanent quarters are established at Camp Robinson it will be used as a general store house.

Escape Death in Runaway

Jacob Pauls had a narrow escape from death in a runaway and the O'Leary twins likewise escaped injury

by a narrow margin. Pauls was thrown from his wagon at the Northwestern depot and struck on his head, a bad gash being cut on the back of his head. He was unconscious for some time but recovered. The horses continued their mad run and milled the baby buggy bearing the O'Leary twins by an ace.

Ball Player Is Spiked

Elmer Abrahamson, star third baseman and utility man of the Sparta baseball team, was seriously spiked by a soldier player in the game with Battery E, of Ft. Leavenworth. A gash six inches long and a half inch deep was made in his leg. Abrahamson is a member of the high school track team and football team. Sparta was defeated by the soldiers, 6 to 4. Thursday Sparta will play Battery A hospital corps at the local field.

The tattooed man has a moving picture show of his own.

No Advertiser Signs a Contract When He Deals With Us

The usual advertising agent before he shows results—wants a one- to three-year contract. Then you must cling to that agent—whatever the outcome—for the full term agreed. It is buying a "pig in a poke." It is also a poor way to place men on their mettle.

We have abandoned contracts Our business is solicited on one basis only—on the claim to outsell any other concern in the field. We expect to be compelled to make good. That is why we pay our Copy Chief $1,000 per week. That is why we work in Advisory Boards, each session of which costs us $1 per minute. We combine our ability—mass our experience—to invariably fulfill our claim.

Then we abide by results. Advertisers may come to us without any commitment. They may start in a small way, and expand when results are apparent. They may quit us the moment another concern shows the power to sell more than we. Thus we are held to the mark. We cannot relax, for our accounts are ours only so long as no better man shows up.

That is the only right way to place advertising, so that is the way we accept

We deal with our men on a similar basis. Our Copy Staff is made up of the ablest men we know. Each can earn more here than anywhere else, so long as he holds his own. But, when any man lets another outsell him, the other has his place. For advertising is war, and expensive war. The stakes are tremendous. There is no room for incompetents. Men or agencies must rise or fall by their victories or their defeats. So, we make no contracts with our brilliant men, and we ask none from any client.

There is a way to know if your advertising brings the utmost results that are possible. There is a way to prove—easily and quickly—if we can sell more than others. The proof can be given without any commitment on your part. It will be such that no man can dispute it. The result may be worth thousands of dollars to you. We have made it worth millions to some. If you are interested, ask us to state the way.

BIG EXPOSITION IMMENSE SUCCESS

SEATTLE, Wash., July 29.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle has spelled success. The first month at this latest of world's fairs was proof in itself that the marvel of the Portland exposition was to be repeated here; a great industrial advertisement was to turn out a money-maker.

Until the Lewis and Clark fair of 1905 came to upset all calculations by paying dividends, it was only to be expected that fortunes should be lost in making an exposition a success from the artistic, industrial and educational standpoint. The idea of financial success was not even considered. But the exposition of today is now proving to be a good investment.

With an average attendance of around 24,000 persons daily, the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific fair is not worrying over finances. Its courts, its ways, its exhibit palaces and its amusement places are never uncrowded, and every promise is being made good. The west has accomplished its boast of unusual enterprise, and Seattle may rank with Chicago, Paris, Buffalo and St. Louis as exposition cities.

The greatest surprise to many visitors has been the really international character of the show. There have been a few really great fairs in the past, and a host of others that were important only locally. Many have looked upon the Seattle fair as one of provincial scope. To find instead a great international circus so many-ringed as to be bewildering, embracing displays from every part of the globe, is surprising.

GOOD PAINTER; HE DRANK IT

William Detloff is a good painter, and this helped him some when he was arraigned before Judge Brindley in county court this morning, charged with being a common drunkard. Detloff worked at the judge's home and did fine work, but he was laying off drunk half the time, and on this account "his honor" found that it cost him $146 to paint and hang paper in four rooms.

Today when Detloff was brought into court, the judge recognized him at once. Detloff pleaded guilty, and as he was such a good painter, the court let him off with 20 days in jail. He will now paint for Sheriff Duncan.

AGED ARTIST DIES.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 30.—John R. Haft, 84, the widely known artist and author, was found dead yesterday at his home in this city. Whether death was due to a fall or apoplexy is unknown. The coroner is investigating.

Tait was a native of Cincinnati and was a son of Geo. Tait, a cousin of Archbishop Tait of Canterbury, England.

BANGOR, WIS.

Mr. Ed Benson and daughter Irene, who have been visiting with relatives here and at La Crosse the past two weeks, returned to their home in Canada Monday.

Misses Rae and Anna Stevens visited with relatives at La Crosse Sunday.

Mrs. Emma Darling spent Sunday at La Crosse.

Mrs. F. G. Harrison of Rhineland is the guest of her mother, Mrs. A. B. Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Trepte and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thoolens of La Crosse spent Sunday here the guests of Mrs. Trepte's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manny Wakeman.

Miss Fae Vaughan was a Sparta visitor Wednesday.

Harmon Chase was stricken with apoplexy Sunday afternoon and died Monday at 3 p. m. Funeral services will be held at the house at 2 p. m. Thursday, conducted by Rev. W. E. Olmstead.

Miss Cora Finger of Tomah spent Sunday here the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. Fulton.

Miss Sophia Marquardt of La Crosse spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mrs. A. B. Newton.

Miss Mary Horn and Mike Lawler of La Crosse spent Sunday here at the home of A. Wohlhofer and family.

Mrs. W. H. Preston is visiting with relatives at Sparta.

Miss Ella Stintzi is visiting with relatives at Wausau.

Mrs. R. F. Bacon and daughter Mildred of Omaha, Neb., are the guests of relatives in the village.

Mrs. Oscar Larson and baby and Mrs. H. Fritz and daughter spent Saturday here with relatives.

TOMAH, WIS.

The home talent play given by the Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen at Odd Fellows' hall, "The Old Maid's Club," was certainly a live one. The characters, 16 ladies and two men, did their parts well, and the play was a source of laughter from start to finish. It was well attended, too, there being nearly 200 people present.

The remains of Mrs. D. Stelter were brought here Saturday afternoon from Dakota. The funeral took place Sunday at the residence of her father, Mr. Wm. Burris, Rev. James W. Smith of the Episcopal church officiating. Interment took place at Oak Grove cemetery.

The Tomah band, Mr. Fred S. Barrows, leader, gives two concerts in the park this week, one Tuesday and one Friday. The usual concert had to be omitted last week because many of the players were in Camp Douglas.

Mrs. Will Johnson and sons Geo. and Charles left Sunday for Tacoma, Wash., where they will make their future home. Mr. Johnson has had a position on the new extension for a year.

Mayor W. J. McMullen returned Sunday from Marinette, where he has been in attendance at the ninth annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

Mr. Ed A. Heberlein has removed his family to Bangor, Wis., to make their future home there.

R. E. Pennwell and family left Sunday for the west. They expect to stop over at La Crosse and Minneapolis.

Mrs. Geo. Tucker and daughters Vivian and Audrey returned Saturday from an extended visit with friends at Lanesboro, Minn.

Mrs. R. Bolton spent Saturday at the home of Mrs. S. P. Jones of Tunnel City.

Winnie Hall left Sunday for St. Paul, to make an extended visit with Mr. Weymouth and family.

Mr. Thos. Williams left Saturday for Washington to attend the exposition and also to visit his brother, David Williams of Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boetticher and family expect to leave the first part of August to make a visit at their old home in Ohio.

Mrs. Schaefer, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schaefer and Mrs. H. T. Hoag were here from Sparta one day last week.

Mrs. Geo. Bond who has been at Spring Bank for some time, has left for Trinidad, Colo.

F. Drew, A. L. Butts, H. B. Johnson and W. E. Nuzum, with their families, have been camping at Flora Dell.

Mrs. Hatch Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. Gilson came from Tunnel City Friday to witness the Royal Neighbors' play.

Misses Hattie Borchert and Hattie Spangenberg visited in Tunnel City the first of the week.

LA CRESCENT, MINN.

Mrs. W. W. Selby is visiting friends in Hokah.

Jim Worthington has moved into the James Gillespie house. He and his grandfather have dissolved partnership.

The dry weather is telling on the crops and if rain does not come within a few days there will be a shortage of everything but faultfinding.

G. W. Boynton, who is seriously ill, is not improving as fast as his friends would wish.

C. E. Boynton made a flying trip to Caledonia the fore part of the week on special business.

The Berfield cow is still a problem unsolved and it is concluded that she has been stolen and slaughtered as she certainly would have been found.

The common council has ordered sidewalk laid on Iowa avenue and the residents whom it strikes are up in arms protesting against it. They claim it is done to accommodate one of the councilmen, who lives in the south end of town. This may lead to the testing of the law under which the village is incorporated.

Many people from the village are going to La Crosse to do trading every day. If somebody would put in a general store here it would be a good investment.

Mark Johnson of La Crosse was in town Tuesday.

Happiness is merely a qualifying condition. One man may be happy simply because he isn't as unhappy as some other fellow.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST
WISCONSIN FUGITIVE GIVES HIMSELF UP
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30.—Declaring that he was tired of being dogged by detectives, William Nilsson, formerly of Clinton Junction, Wis., today surrendered himself to Capt. Whitsett after having confessed that he was a forger.
"I have been dodging arrest since March of last year," Nilsson told the police.
The prisoner says he forged several checks on the Clinton Creamery Supply company at Clinton Junction, Wis. He then left Clinton Junction, abandoning his wife and baby and went to New York, where he shipped for Germany.
BITTEN BY DOG; DIES IN AGONY
ST. PAUL, Minn., July 30.—Hydrophobia which developed six weeks after he was bitten by a dog resulted last night in the death of John Hagen at the University hospital.
Hagen was attacked by a dog while in the C. A. Smith lumber yards six weeks ago and he was attended by a physician in the neighborhood of his home, Forty-third street and DuPont avenue north. The wound was cauterized and healed.
Hagen became violent yesterday noon and imperiled the lives of many where he lived. The police of the north side police station were summoned and the man was overpowered. His arms were strapped to his side and he was taken to the city jail, where for nearly an hour he raved. The man growled and snapped and frothed at the mouth. Upon orders of Dr. John O. Taft, police surgeon, the man was taken to the city hospital and later removed to the University hospital, where he died in the throes of rabies.
No man knows anything about the divine friendship who does not exhibit human friendliness.

BIG BIDS FOR THE JOHNSON-JEFF FIGHT

NEW YORK, July 30.—Fight promoters all over the country have gotten out their pads and pencils and are figuring out just how many thousands dollars they can offer James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson to appear in their particular roped arena and punch each other's heads off.
While no actual bid has been received for the battle sporting men in New York today declare the purse which finally lands the fight will be the biggest that was ever offered for a fist encounter. The promoters are a little wary, each waiting to see what the other fellow is going to offer before making his own bid. One fight promoter who has pulled out some of the biggest mills in America, believes the "house" which sees the fight will pay $100,000 for seats, not counting the money that will be received from the moving picture people.

Already the sports are beginning to dope out the chances of the two fighters and many concede the battle to Jeffries already. They point out that "too much high life" is going to tell on John's wonderful constitution and the negro must train faithfully to get into ring condition again.
To those who saw Jeffries in New York yesterday when he posted his forfeit, the old time champion was a surprise. Jeffries stripped to the waist just to show the sporting writers how he looked. If ever a man looked fit it was the gentleman engaged in the manufacture of alfalfa. When he began training for his battle with Ruhlman, Jeffries weighed 265 pounds and worked down to 220 for the fight. Today he weighs 233 pounds and says he feels fine.

DONLIN-MAGEE DEAL SETTLED BY MCGRAW

NEW YORK, July 30.—The Donlin-Magee deal between the Giants and the Phillies is clinched, according to the words of Mugsy McGraw. From the remarks the Giant leader made, Donlin will go to the Phillies and Magee surely will come here to take an outfield place.
There is to be no trouble with Murray. If necessary the Phillies will pay him his salary for the time his contract has to run and keep him on the bench. Murray holds or controls little stock, and the deal to out him has been decided upon by the main stockholders.

GROGERS RETURN TIRED BUT HAPPY

More Than One Thousand
Had a Glorious Time at Trempealeau Grove
Yesterday

Sunburned and tired, but bubbling
over with good cheer the picnickers who yesterday enjoyed the annual grogers and butchers' picnic at Trempealeau Grove on the steamer
W. W. returned home last evening.
Contents were the order of the day.
Mrs. L. N. Johnson guessed within 17 of the 817 tickets sold and Miss Grace Van Loon guessed within 3 of the 663 kernels of corn in a jar. This was on the boat, and when Trempea-leau was reached a big welcome sign across the main street cheered the excursionists wonderfully. Mayor Bright, through his daughter, Miss Vera Bright, presented the key to the city, the young lady tying it about the neck of the genial "Jim"
Murray. There were sparks of oratory and music by the band after which all went to the grove. Here the south side clerks defeated the north side clerks, 13 to 10, at baseball. Raus and Wiles were the battery for the north side and Welsman and Voss for the south side,
while Koblitz umpired.

Edna James won the foot race for girls under 15 and received a sack
of flour. Martha Hanson of Trempea-leau second, won three pounds of coffee; Lena Fiedler won a box of candy as third prize.

Walter Lee was first in the foot race for boys under 15 and won a watch; Art Bull, second, won a knife,
and Merritt Bell took the third prize,
a broom.

J. Smith won the foot race for grogers' clerks only, taking a box of early June peas; L. Hanson, second, won a sack of flour and J. Erbneck, third, was awarded a dozen cakes
of toilet soap.

Mabel Van Loon won the free for all ladies' foot race, getting six quarts of mixed pickles; Miss Henn-singen took second, a box of stationery, and Miss I. Van Loon, third, won a dozen boxes of Nickel biscuit.

Elsie Kleipeter received a bottle of perfume for first finding and lacing up her shoes, which had been piled in a mix-up bunch on the grass.
Olga Wagner, as second, won six silver spoons and Vera Fiedler, third,
took a box of candy.

Edna James won the girl's peanut race, taking a set of silver teaspoons.
The north side won the tug of war,
each getting a sack of flour, and the losers each getting a pound of coffee. The south side ladies pulled the north side over and each winner received a two pound package of coffee, while the losers got a quart of relish each.

Owen won the fat man's race with Irwin second and Urbanack third. A box of cigars, a dozen Nickel biscuit
and a broom were the prizes.

Fletcher won the men's foot race,
taking a safety razor; E. Kabat, second, won a box of cigars, and Kush was third, taking a box of cigars while Wallace, fourth, received a dozen cakes of toilet soap.

Mrs. D. J. Clark, Jr., won the ladies' nail driving contest by driving ten in a straight line first and receiving a dozen cans of fruit. Miss Maude Fuller, second, got a box of candy and Mrs. Englehart third, won
a broom.

Harold Ford received a sack of flour for winning the boy's shoe trying contest.

Miss Shuman was first, Miss Dragan second and Mrs. White third in the ladies' ball throwing contest. Mrs.
White, Mrs. Fred Fall and Miss Johnson won the second contest. The free for all men's race went to Wally Kick and Tenney. John Bergoust,

SAYS HIGH TARIFF IS BLOW TO WORKMEN

NEW YORK, July 29.—Speaking with amazing frankness in spite of his diplomatic post, Ambassador Jusserand of France, before he sailed today for Paris on the La Lorraine, attacked the tendency toward high tariff on the part of the United States.

"A workman's daughter has as much right to have the ribbon in her hair as a rich man's daughter, but if this high tariff goes into effect
she won't be able to do so," said M.
Jusserand. "A high tariff on curtains, a product of France, will prevent the workman from hanging them in his home. I don't believe in a high tariff when it prevents the poor man from having the little luxuries he craves."

ARKANSAS GOVERNOR CLASH ON CAPITOL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 30.—
The clash between Gov. Donaghy, backed by a company of national guard, and the sheriff of Pulaski county armed with an order from the chancery is expected today.

The court has ordered the governor and the four members of the state capitol commission to appear and show reason why they should not be punished for contempt in going ahead with work on the new capitol
after an injunction had been issued prohibiting its continuance.

Gov. Donaghy believes that as chief executive he cannot be cited for contempt. He has ordered a company of the national guard here. If the sheriff attempts to interfere with the work on the new capitol it is believed he will throw the guard around the building.

AUTO ACCIDENT, 1
DIES; 2 ARE INJURED

CHICAGO, July 30.—Mrs. Parker
Winfield Kerr is dead, W. S. Mills, owner of a tailoring establishment,
and Harvey Hefer are injured as the result of an auto accident last night when the machine turned turtle near Libertyville. Mills is seriously injured and it is feared he will die.
Mrs. Kerr's neck was broken and she died shortly after the accident.

GLIDDEN CARS ON LAST LAP OF TOUR

SALINA, Kan., July 30.—The Glidden tourists left on the final lap
of the trip early today for Kansas

GENOA, WIS.

Miss Garvey of Seneca is visiting friends here.

John Morris, Willie Britting and John Ott, while clamming last Monday afternoon, found a pearl valued at $225, which they sold to A. J.
Latimer.

Russell Kimball has a very sore hand. He went to De Soto Wednesday to Dr. Stevens' where he had it lanced.

A dance was given in L. Monti's hall Thursday evening; music was furnished by Clinton Hastings and Mr. Callahan.

Mrs. Paul Koeppe and little son Teddy went to Muscatine, Iowa, on the 29th to visit her sister, Mrs. J.
Hopkins.

Miss Violet Kugley, her little sister and two little brothers are here visiting her uncle, L. Gorman and family.

Several from here went on the excursion on the steamer J. S. on Friday.

Mrs. P. J. McManamy and children are visiting her parents here.
Miss Angeline Barlina came down from La Crosse to spend a few days with her sisters.

Miss Lima Pulver is suffering with rheumatism.

Miss Anna Hackett of Brownsville spent a few days visiting her little nephew, Stanton Gillette, last week.

Miss Margaret Rittman of Minneapolis is the guest of Miss Florence Jambols.

Dr. Fox of Chaseburg was called to see Mr. Francoli last Thursday.

A very embarrassing thing about being married is to know many people you have to pretend you are glad of it.

EIGHT OVERCOME AT NEENAH

NEENAH, Wis., July 29.—Eight workmen employed on pavement construction work were prostrated
by the heat yesterday. John Pol-jack, H. Werner and J. Budois are in a precarious condition. All were removed to their homes in an ambulance.

A temperature of 104 was the highest recorded and no relief is promised.

Some people are inclined to mince matters as much as a pie baker.

Hot Weather—
—Foot Comfort

If you want your feet to feel right try this plan.

Keep at least two pairs of shoes on hand all the time and wear them on alternate days. It keeps the shoes fresh and clean and allows the perspiration to dry out, thereby avoiding scalded feet. Incidentally it makes your shoes give you longer and better service.

If you don't need the extra shoes this year buy them anyhow and try the above plan—it will cut down your shoe bills.

Everything in shoes for men and women here and now. We keep our stock right up to the last tick of the clock all the time.
